Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Music in the Old Testament Music belongs to the inalienable rights of man. is the effort to make one's self intelligible to his fellow men by means of the stimulation of sounds of all kinds. Music exists wherever men are found upon the earth and everywhere they show a genuine refinement in the discovery of means by which to originate sounds. There is hardly anything which can not be brought into use for its purposes. We do not intend to lose ourselves here in speculation upon the psychological reasons for this demoniac impulse; we will be content simply to establish the fact and will not enter into it with regard to humanity in general, but only in so far as the ancient people of Israel is concerned. Even with relation to the Old Testament we will limit ourselves to what the Old Testament itself can tell us about music and musical things. Many passages have proved very puzzling to Bible readers. For instance when we read in the heading of Psalm lxxx, To the chief Musician upon Shoshannim-Eduth, A Psalm of Asaph ; or in the heading of Ps. ix., To the chief Musician upon Shushan-eduth, Michtam of David, to teach ; or in the heading of Ps. lvi, To the chief Musician upon Jonath-elem-rechokim, Michtam of David ; or when Psalms viii, lxxx, and lxxxiv, bear the inscription.
